

Becoming A Counselor:

The Light, the Bright, and the Serious
2nd Edition

Samuel T. Gladding

Becoming a Counselor:

The Light, the Bright, and the Serious, Second Edition

Copyright © 2009 by the American Counseling Association Foundation. All rights reserved. Printed in the United States of America. Except as permitted under the United States Copyright Act of 1976, no part of this publication may be reproduced or distributed in any form or by any means, or stored in a database or retrieval system, without the written permission of the publisher.

10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1

American Counseling Association Foundation
5999 Stevenson Avenue
Alexandria, VA 22304

Cover and Text Design
Martha Woolsey

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data

Gladding, Samuel T.
Becoming a counselor : the light, the bright, and the serious /
by Samuel T. Gladding.
p. cm.
Includes bibliographical references.
ISBN 978-1-55620-281-0 (alk. paper)
1. Counseling. 2. Counselors. I. Title.

BF637.C6G525 2008
158'.3—dc22

2007044481

DEDICATION

To Thomas J. Sweeney

An active and strong voice for counseling as a profession, the founder of Chi Sigma Iota (counseling academic and professional honor society international), a friend and mentor

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Preface	xi
About the Author	xiii

Section | One

BEFORE COUNSELING: PERSONAL GROWTH		1
1.	Choices: Holding On or Letting Go	3
2.	Milledgeville	5
3.	The Rock Beneath the Ivy	7
4.	Just as I Am	9
5.	Cool Breeze: A Lesson in the Tragedy of Racism.....	13
6.	I Married the Football Team	15
7.	Judge Hardy	17
8.	A June Night in December	19
9.	How the Past Came Into the Present	21
	Points to Ponder	22

Section | Two

INITIATION INTO THE PROFESSION		23
10.	The Calling	25
11.	Encountering the Unexpected: Bandits	27
12.	“Uh-Huh” Is Never Enough	29
13.	The Locked Ward.....	31
14.	From the Inside Out	33
	Points to Ponder	35

Section | Three

FINDING WHAT WORKS		37
15.	Talk Is Cheap	39
16.	Tex Ritter Smith.....	41
17.	Playing Hunches.....	43
18.	Consultant or Catalyst	45
19.	Sometimes It Is How You Ask the Question.....	47
20.	Three Acres of Garlic	49
21.	The Music of Life	51

Table of Contents

22.	Knowledge Is Power Up to a Point	53
	Points to Ponder	55

Section | Four

LEARNING FROM FAILURE		57
23.	Sleepy Time Client	59
24.	Bo: A Disaster in Assessment	61
25.	Rabbits	63
26.	Testing a Theory: The Sound of Silence	65
27.	Chipmunk Cheeks.....	67
28.	The Right to Struggle.....	71
29.	Be Modest	73
30.	A Door, a Phone, a Window.....	75
31.	The Price of Being Ill Prepared	77
32.	The Wrong Side of Presentations	79
33.	Learning the Lingo	81
34.	The Wake-Up Dream	83
35.	Love on an Academic Level.....	85
36.	The Spanish Inquisition or How Not to Write a Resume.....	87
	Points to Ponder	89

Section | Five

SKILLS AND PROCESSES		91
37.	The Basics	93
38.	The Difficulty of Change	95
39.	The Pace of Change.....	97
40.	Boundaries: An Awakening	99
41.	Modeling: A Case of Starlings	101
42.	Mr. TBA: The Importance of Knowing Others	103
43.	Empathy	105
44.	Afraid of Blood	107
45.	Omelets.....	109
46.	The Concrete Counselor	111
	Points to Ponder	113

Section | Six

CREATIVITY IN COUNSELING		115
47.	Socks	117
48.	The Foxhole.....	119
49.	Pantomime Can Be Powerful	121
50.	The Phony Prisoner	123

51.	The Words Are There/I Don't Know Where.....	125
52.	Nothing Could be Finer ... Almost!	127
	Points to Ponder	130

Section | Seven

MULTICULTURAL AND SPIRITUAL CONSIDERATIONS		131
53.	An Encounter With the Klan	133
54.	Shirley.....	135
55.	WASPs	137
56.	The Argentine.....	139
57.	Spirits, Spirituality, and Counseling.....	141
58.	Becoming a Student of Culture	143
59.	Putting on the Gloves With Mother Teresa	145
60.	Getting There	147
61.	Ten Pesos for the Gringo	149
62.	Geography and Identity	151
63.	Women Are People!.....	153
	Points to Ponder	155

Section | Eight

THE INFLUENCES OF COLLEAGUES, FRIENDS, AND FAMILY		157
64.	The Office	159
65.	Happenstance: Note Whom You Quote	161
66.	Sources Within	163
67.	Cool Under Fire	165
68.	Scars.....	167
69.	Courtland, the Turkeys, and Me in Knoxville, Tennessee	169
70.	Parenthood	171
	Points to Ponder	173

Section | Nine

WORKING WITH GROUPS AND FAMILIES		175
71.	The Other Side of Labels	177
72.	The Power of Nancy Drew.....	179
73.	Airtime.....	181
74.	Three's a Crowd But Four's a Family Counseling Session.....	183
75.	Sex Therapy: The Challenge.....	185
76.	Drama Break	187
77.	An Unexpected Reconciliation: Laura Ashley.....	189
78.	Humor	191

Table of Contents

79.	Research and a Reframe Within the Family.....	193
80.	Words Alone	195
	Points to Ponder	196

Section | Ten

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT		197
81.	Supervision	199
82.	Court: The Rules of the Game	201
83.	Research and Theory: A Reminder From Carl Rogers	203
84.	My Pal Sal	205
85.	Adjectives and Adverbs	207
86.	A Quiet Riot: Life as an Oxymoron.....	209
87.	Thunder, Turmoil, and Thoughts.....	211
88.	Who Wants to Work?	215
89.	Not by Work Alone	217
90.	Rejection.....	219
91.	Counselors Anonymous	221
	Points to Ponder	222

Section | Eleven

DEVELOPMENTAL CONSIDERATIONS		223
92.	Aging But Not Developing	225
93.	Tree With Lights	227
94.	The Never Forgettable New York Adventure	229
95.	Don't Take It Literally.....	233
96.	Erotic or Erratic: What a Difference a Word Makes	235
97.	Attitudes	237
98.	The Wearing of Black and Development	239
99.	Lost	241
100.	Just Because You're the One and Only Doesn't Mean You Won't Be Left Cold and Lonely.....	243
101.	Resiliency and Unpredictability	245
102.	Finding a Vision That Works.....	247
	Points to Ponder	249

Section | Twelve

LEADERSHIP		251
103.	The Human Side of Leadership: Being President of the American Counseling Association.....	253
104.	Dealing With the Press Can Be a Mess— But You Should Do It.....	259
105.	The Leader as a Catalyst and Servant.....	263
106.	Leadership in Counseling After a Crisis.....	267

107. Smoke and Mirrors273
Points to Ponder274

Section | Thirteen

ISSUES IN COUNSELING 275

108. Counseling as a Quiet Revolution.....277
 109. Counseling in an Age of Chaos: Learning From a Historical Perspective279
 110. Counseling in Context: Keeping a Balance283
 111. Diagnosis, Labels, and Dialogue.....285
 112. Forgiveness Is Transformational.....289
 113. The “isms” in Counseling291
 114. Territory Folks Should Stick Together295
 115. Counseling or Counselling: Internationally Speaking299
 116. Why Counseling?.....301
Points to Ponder304

Section | Fourteen

TERMINATION 305

117. The Quilt307
 118. Hair309
 119. Avoiding Permanent Termination: Self-Care and SIFLs...311
 120. On Grief and Gratitude313
 121. Always Becoming315
Points to Ponder316

Epilogue317
 Notes319
 References321

PREFACE

Some events change your life. Most are not so powerful. Critical occurrences that have an impact are landmark experiences such as leaving home, the death of a parent, the achievement of a goal, failure, an accident, a chance encounter, or a natural disaster. Other transitional times may be less notable but still influential, such as moments of insight, prejudice, or simple acts of kindness. Outside of these memorable incidents, the rest of our existence is rather mundane and routine. Thus, we may be at a loss to recall what we ate or to whom we talked two days ago because neither was significant in life-changing or life-giving ways.

In counseling we see people at crisis points. They are usually ready or willing to make necessary changes, some of which are dramatic. However, as clinicians we seldom remember most of the people we encounter because the helping process is more routine than avant-garde. My experiences reflect that pattern. I can recall only a few of the hundreds of individuals I have assisted. Yet, some events in my personal and professional life have been turning points that have influenced my growth and development in a manner similar to those situations that have most affected my clients. You have had (or most likely will have) some similar experiences. These times are filled with a plethora of emotions and thoughts as well as new behaviors.

The vignettes in this text are representative of many universal dimensions involved in becoming a counselor and helping professional. In these stories, you will find examples of

- the light, that is, the humorous aspects of life and counseling;
- the bright, that is, the insightful nature of life and counseling; and
- the serious, that is, the deeper and more sobering parts of life and counseling.

Sometimes these three dimensions occur simultaneously and are obvious. Sometimes they are sequential and subtle. Regardless, they are a part of the experience of both novice and veteran counselors.

Preface

Although the incidents in these stories are unique, they are also broad based. You may find yourself identifying with them and their applicability to you. The “Points to Ponder” section at the conclusion of each section is an especially good place for such reflections. In any case, it is my hope that this book will assist you in living a richer, fuller, deeper, and more meaningful life through gaining insight into yourself and the processes involved in the bittersweet process of choice and change.

In reading this text, remember that some incidents represented here, mainly those that occurred in my own life, are true. However, most of the stories in this book are based on facts that have been altered or embellished a bit. Thus, in all circumstances, characters who are a part of these episodes (unless specifically identified) have been disguised through multiple means such as being combined with similar people in a composite, having their names changed, having their genders switched, or having their presenting problem modified.

There are a number of people who have been pivotal in the publication of this book. Clients, colleagues, and situations are the key sources for what appears on these pages. However, the one who has done the most to transpose my reflections into readable prose is Anita Hughes, my former assistant at Wake Forest University, who initially helped organize and edit much of this material. I could not have completed the task without her. My colleagues in the Department of Counseling at Wake Forest University, especially Donna Henderson, Debbie Newsome, Laura Veach, Tom Elmore, Pamela Karr, and John Anderson, have also been most supportive. Erin Binkley and Elizabeth Cox, my graduate assistants in 2006–2007 and 2007–2008 respectively, offered invaluable insights as well. I am likewise grateful for the positive input into my life by Thomas J. Sweeney, to whom this book is dedicated, and the encouragement and constructive comments of Carolyn Baker, Director of Publications at the American Counseling Association (ACA). My gratitude is also extended to Rich Yep, Executive Director of ACA, and to the publication committee members of ACA who reviewed and favorably recommended this work. Finally, I am indebted to my wife, Claire, and our children, Ben, Nate, and Tim, for the rich memories they have provided me in regard to counseling and life. Becoming a counselor is a continuous and challenging process.

—Samuel T. Gladding

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Samuel T. Gladding is a professor and chair of the Department of Counseling at Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. He has been a practicing counselor in both public and private agencies since 1971. His leadership in the field of counseling includes service as

- president of the American Counseling Association,
- president of the Association for Counselor Education and Supervision (ACES),
- president of the Association for Specialists in Group Work (ASGW),
- president of Chi Sigma Iota (counseling academic and professional honor society international), and
- vice president of the Counseling Association for Humanistic Education and Development (C-AHEAD).

Gladding is the former editor of the Journal for Specialists in Group Work and the ASGW newsletter. He is also the author of more than 100 professional publications. In 1999, he was cited as being in the top 1% of contributors to the flagship journal of the American Counseling Association, the Journal of Counseling & Development, for the 15-year period from 1978 to 1993. Some of Gladding's most recent books are The Counseling Dictionary (2nd ed.; 2006), Counseling: A Comprehensive Profession (6th ed.; 2009), Group Work: A Counseling Specialty (5th ed.; 2008), Counseling as an Art: The Creative Arts in Counseling (3rd ed.; 2005), and Family Therapy: History, Theory and Process (4th ed.; 2007).

Gladding's previous academic appointments have been at the University of Alabama at Birmingham, Fairfield University (Connecticut), and Rockingham Community College (Wentworth, North Carolina). He was also Director of Children's Services at the Rockingham County (North Carolina) Mental Health Center. Gladding received his degrees from Wake Forest University (B.A., M.A.Ed.), Yale University (M.A.R.),

About the Author

and the University of North Carolina at Greensboro (Ph.D.). He is a National Certified Counselor, a Certified Clinical Mental Health Counselor, and a Licensed Professional Counselor (North Carolina). He is a member of the North Carolina Board of Examiners in Counseling.

Gladding is a Fellow of the American Counseling Association and the recipient of other numerous honors, including

- the American Counseling Association's Gilbert and Kathleen Wrenn Caring and Humanitarian Person Award,
- the American Counseling Association Foundation's Bridge Builder Award,
- the Association for Creativity in Counseling Lifetime Achievement Award,
- the Association for Spirituality, Ethics, and Religious Issues in Counseling Humanitarian Award,
- the Chi Sigma Iota Thomas J. Sweeney Professional Leadership Award,
- the C-AHEAD Joseph W. and Lucille U. Hollis Outstanding Publication Award,
- the ACES Professional Leadership Award,
- the ASGW Eminent Career Award, and
- the North Carolina Counseling Association's (NCCA) Ella Stephen Barrett Award for leadership and service to the counseling profession.

Dr. Gladding is married to Claire Tillson Gladding and is the father of three children: Ben, Nate, and Tim. Outside of counseling, he enjoys tennis, swimming, music and humor.