INTRODUCTION
The Nominations and Elections Handbook provides ACA members, National Divisions, Organizational Affiliates, and Regions with current information about ACA Nominations & Elections policies and procedures. The contents of this handbook include rules and procedures for the following activities:

- Nominating and electing the ACA President-Elect.
- Nominating and electing Governing Council Representatives for Regions.
- Nominating and election Governing Council Representatives for Divisions.
- Nominating and electing the Graduate Student Governing Council Representative (even years only).
- Facilitating the leadership elections of Divisions with Managed Service Agreements (MSAs) that elect to participate in ACA’s election process.

Pursuant to ACA Bylaws Article IX, Section 3(a), the Nominations and Elections Committee is responsible for conducting the election of ACA officers according to policies and procedures established by the Governing Council. The rules and procedures in this handbook are intended to govern the nominations and elections processes that fall under the ACA Governing Council’s jurisdiction. These nominations and elections processes include the ACA President-Elect, Governing Council Representatives, and the Graduate Student Governing Council Representatives.

In addition to ACA’s nomination procedures, this handbook is a resource for National Divisions that depend on ACA to conduct their own officer and governing body elections. These entities are responsible for following their own internal nominations processes and providing ACA with election information/policies, candidate names, and background data in a timely manner. ACA will communicate the outcomes of Division elections to the Nominations and Elections Chair of each respective Division.

ACA members with questions about nominations and elections are encouraged to reach out to Amy Smith, Governance Administrator at 703-823-9800 x295 or asmith@counseling.org for additional information.

   • Have had no ethical violations for the past ten (10) consecutive years immediately prior to nomination.
   • Have served in at least two of the following three roles: a) a president of a national division, b) region chair, or c) Governing Council representative.

Prospective nominees for President-Elect are responsible for seeking nomination through their respective Division(s), Organizational Affiliate, or Region. Divisions and Organizational Affiliates are responsible for establishing their own rules and procedures for nominating President-Elect candidates. Regions must adhere to the rules and procedures established by ACA when nominating candidates for President-Elect (Appendix A).

C. Nominations Submission: The deadline for Divisions, Organizational Affiliates, and Regions to submit nominations for President-Elect is March 1 of each year. No late nominations will be considered. Complete nomination packets include:

D. Nomination Review: The Nominations and Elections Committee will review each nomination packet to verify eligibility. The Nominations and Elections Committee will submit a slate of all eligible nominees to the Governing Council at its Annual Meeting that takes place to coincide with the ACA Annual Conference & Expo. A majority vote of the Governing Council is required for approval and inclusion on the ballot.

E. Election The ACA Annual Election takes place from approximately December 1 through January 31. ACA uses an external elections vendor to facilitate the annual election. Paper ballots are provided to members who prefer not to vote electronically upon request.

V. ELECTIONS OF DIVISION AND ORGANIZATIONAL AFFILIATE OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

A. Participation Rights: Management of a Division or Organizational Affiliate’s annual director and officer elections is an optional service provided by ACA as part of a Managed Services Agreement (MSA). Divisions and Organizational Affiliates that elect to participate in the annual ACA election are subject to ACA’s election policies, procedures, and timelines. Divisions that decide to participate in the election should notify ACA accordingly no later than July 1, or by the date that candidate slates are due to ACA (if earlier than July 1). Divisions that withdraw from the process after agreeing to participate will be responsible for their pro rata cost of participation at the time of withdrawal.

B. Nominations & Elections Procedures: Divisions and Organizational Affiliates are responsible for establishing and following their own policies and procedures for nominating candidates for officer and director positions and any other candidate. Copies of the Division and Organizational Affiliate policies and procedures should be made available to prospective candidates to ensure that the process is open and transparent. Copies of Division/Organizational Affiliate nominations and elections procedures are due to the ACA Governance Administrator upon confirming participation in the managed election by July 15.

C. Nominations & Elections Schedule: The Nominations and Elections timeline outlined in this Handbook serves as the official schedule to inform Division and Organizational Affiliate leaders of the deadlines that will need to be met to secure participation in the election. Divisions and Organizational Affiliates that do not adhere to prescribed deadlines risk the quality and efficacy of their elections.

D. Eligibility: All officers and governance members (i.e. board members, etc.) of ACA Divisions and Organizational Affiliates are required to be ACA members in good standing upon being nominated and throughout their terms if elected. Divisions and Organizational Affiliates may establish other eligibility criteria in their respective bylaws and policies. ACA staff will only verify that candidates for office meet the ACA membership requirement. Division and Organizational Affiliate leaders are responsible for verifying other eligibility criteria before submitting their candidate slates to ACA.

E. Submission of Candidate Slates: Upon facilitating a nomination process consistent with their own bylaws and policies, each Division and Organizational Affiliate electing to participate in ACA’s annual election submits a complete slate of candidates for any officer/director seats that may be vacant in the coming year. Candidate slates are due to the ACA Governance Administrator no later than September 1 or another date as publicized by ACA.

F. Candidate Statements: Upon verifying each candidate’s eligibility, ACA will request statements from all nominees. Candidate statements are due to the ACA Governance Administrator by the second Monday in September for inclusion on the ACA website. Candidates who do not provide a statement will have their names published with the designation Candidate Information Not Available.

G. Voting Rights: Divisions and Organizational Affiliates are responsible for providing the ACA Governance Administrator with a list and voting credentials of those Division and Organizational Affiliate members with rights to participate in the election of officers and directors. This may include membership segments that have special voting privileges (e.g. student members electing a student representative, etc.). The cutoff date for identifying eligible voting members is October 31. An eligible membership list as of November 1 will be used to facilitate the election/balloting.

H. Election Promotion: Apart from publishing the names of candidates on the ACA website, ACA does not take responsibility for the full promotion of the election to individual Division and Organizational Affiliate members. Divisions and Organizational Affiliate leaders should take this into consideration when planning their nominations and elections processes.

I. Election Results: The outcomes of Division and Organizational Affiliate elections conducted through ACA’s annual election will be reported to the Division/Organizational Affiliate Presidents and Nominations and Elections Chairs by mid-February. Division and Organizational Affiliate leaders are responsible for notifying their candidates of the election outcomes. Divisions and Organizational Affiliates that do not participate in ACA’s annual election are required to report their own officer and director election results to ACA by March 1.
Part 2: Administrative Rules and Regulations

I. NOMINATIONS

A. Nominations for elected office shall always be made in accordance with the bylaws and/or policies governing the office in question. The nomination deadlines set for the ACA President-Elect and Governing Council Representative positions are firm and no exceptions will be made except at the discretion of the Nominations & Elections Committee Chair.

B. Divisions and Regions are responsible for governing and overseeing their own nominations processes for identifying candidates for ACA President-Elect, Governing Council Representative and (if applicable) officers and directors. Any feedback signifying potential mismanagement or incorrect application of procedures in the nomination of any Division or Region nominee will be referred back to the Division or Region in question to take corrective action.

II. VERIFYING ELIGIBILITY

A. The Nominations & Elections Committee is responsible for verifying that candidates for ACA President-Elect and Governing Council Student Representatives have met all eligibility requirements. To facilitate the verification process, candidates are required to complete a candidate eligibility form and submit it to ACA by the prescribed nomination deadline.

B. The eligibility of candidates for Region and Division Governing Council Representative positions are vetted and verified by their originating entities at the time of nomination. Upon receiving the names of candidates, the Nominations & Elections Committee will verify that the candidates 1) are members in good standing of ACA and 2) are not already candidates for or currently serving as representative to another Division or Region. In the event the originating entity sets additional requirements and/or qualifications for Governing Council Representatives, that entity is responsible for verifying those requirements have been met.

C. National Divisions who participate in ACA’s election as part of a Managed Services Agreement (MSA) are required to pre-vet their candidates and verify eligibility based on the division’s own bylaws and/or policies before submitting the slate of candidates. ACA staff will verify that the candidates for Division officer and director positions are ACA members in good standing, but otherwise will not verify eligibility requirements that are unique to each respective division.

III. CAMPAIGNING

A. No campaigning for election is permitted. The prohibition on campaigning, should not be construed to limit any individual candidate’s opportunities to engage in normal professional activities or association service. Such activities include, but are not limited to, conference presentations, keynote talks, publishing opportunities, professional service (except when it may present potential conflicts with the ACA office sought), volunteer service, etc. Candidates are encouraged to limit their activities to those that are consistent with existing or demonstrable emerging areas of professional interest and expertise, and association involvement. In any activities, the individual candidate must not use these venues to identify themselves as a candidate for office, make campaign position statements, or encourage voting for any specific candidate, except as provided in Section A.1.
1. ACA may make available opportunities for all candidates to present specific information about their personal background and qualifications, their purpose in running for ACA office, their plans or vision for their time in office, if elected, etc. During ACA sponsored opportunities designed and identified by the association to inform and engage members in voting, the prohibition on campaigning does not apply.

B. Use of personal funds for any kind of informal campaigning, such as dissemination of letters, is not allowed.

C. ACA, Divisions, Organizational Affiliates, Regions, and Branches shall not engage in the practice of budgeting or appropriating organizational funds derived from organizational revenues for support of any ACA President-Elect candidate. This also includes funds from conference or any other revenue-producing source.

D. The Association, Divisions, Organizational Affiliates, Regions, and Branches shall not engage in practice of accepting funds or other support for any ACA President-Elect candidate from commercial firms, corporations, foundations, institutions, agencies, or colleagues, acquaintances, or friends of the candidate.

E. Use of association, corporation, foundation, institution, or agency postal permit, telephone tie lines, or “800” numbers constitutes a contribution.

F. Acceptance of contributions from any source by a candidate will be considered a violation of the election regulations or rules for which an individual can be subject to removal from candidacy.

G. ACA funds must not be used except as allowed by nominations and elections regulations and rules.

H. No ACA Division, Organizational Affiliate, Region, Branch, or Branch Division may publish articles on the candidacy of nominees or candidates.

I. Candidate’s ads may not appear in Counseling Today or in Division, Organizational Affiliate, Region, Branch, Branch Division, Committee, or Task Force publications or other content.

J. Oral information about individual candidates is to be confined to personal communications among members, not involving organized campaign speakers, telephone trees, email messages, websites, and other activities which may be construed as campaigning. Candidates may introduce themselves as a candidate for an ACA office, and they may ask for individuals’ support, in informal individual and small group discussions (e.g. receptions). However, candidates may not broadcast or amplify the message regarding their candidacy (e.g. from a stage, podium, dais, etc.)

K. Candidates, friends of candidates, and colleagues of candidates may not distribute or mail campaign literature of any kind.

L. At Division, Organizational Affiliate, Region, Branch, or Branch Division or other ACA meeting, the names of all candidates for an office may be announced, and if one or more of the candidates are present, they may be asked to stand and be recognized. They may not speak about their candidacy or as a candidate in front of the group.

M. The Nominations & Elections Committee recommends that each candidate for President-Elect provide the committee with an outline of planned professional and service activities that will take place between the confirmations of their candidacy at the annual meeting of the Governing Council through January 31, of the following year (the last day of the election cycle). The intent of this information sharing is to allow the committee to answer questions candidates may have about participating in these activities while a candidate.

IV. CANDIDATE STATEMENTS

A. ACA President-Elect: Candidates are given an opportunity to present their qualifications and views to ACA members in a special election edition of Counseling Today. The following procedures are intended to facilitate development, collection and publication of candidate statements:

1. Questions for Candidates: The Nominations and Elections Committee will prepare up to four questions for all ACA President-Elect candidates to respond to in Counseling Today. Candidates may respond to the questions with up to a maximum of 200 words per question or a total of 800 words, depending on how many questions are posed.

2. Biographical Information, Goals Statements and Photograph: In addition to answering questions from the Nominations and Elections Committee, ACA President-Elect candidates are asked to submit biographical information, optional categorical information, a goals statement, and a headshot for inclusion in Counseling Today. Candidates are prohibited from publicizing the division or region that nominated them for office.

3. Word Limits: Candidate responses will be limited to a word count determined primarily based on available publishing space and to ensure equity among the candidates. Prescribed word limits will be noted in the candidate information form provided by ACA staff. Candidates who do not adhere to prescribed word limits will risk having their statements truncated at the last word within the maximum count.

4. Deadlines: Candidates are responsible for submitting their answers to the questions, biographical data, optional categories, goal statements, and photographs to the ACA Governance Administrator by the published deadline(s). In the event any candidate information is not received by the required deadline, the designation Candidate Information Unavailable will be published in its place.

5. Exceptions: Any exception made to this process is subject to the discretion of the Nominations and Elections Committee Chair.

B. Candidates for Graduate Student Representative, Division and Region Governing Council Representative and candidates for Division or Organizational Affiliate officer and director positions may provide candidate statements of up to 200 words for publication on the ACA website.

1. Verification: Upon receipt of a nomination and/or roster of candidates, ACA staff will verify candidate eligibility prior to forwarding a candidate statement form directly to the candidate. ACA staff will copy the President or Nominations & Elections Committee Chair of the candidate’s respective entity on all email communications with the candidate.

2. Approval of Candidates for ACA President-elect and Governing Council Representatives: The ACA Nominations and Elections Committee will review candidate information and verification provided by ACA staff and will forward the slate of candidates to the ACA Governing Council for approval.

3. Deadlines: Candidates are responsible for completing candidate statement forms and submitting them by the published deadline(s). In the event that a candidate statement is not received in a timely manner, the designation Candidate Statement Unavailable will be published in its place.

C. Divisions and Organizational Affiliates that do not elect to participate in ACA’s election process are not entitled to publishing candidate statements on the ACA website.

V. BALLOT

A. Verification of Candidates for ACA President-Elect and Governing Council Representatives: Before the ballot is finalized and printed, the final copy will be reviewed and validated by the Nominations & Elections Committee Chair.

B. The order of candidate names for ACA President-elect on the ballot will be determined by lot.

C. Verification of Division, Organizational Affiliate and Region Candidates: Before the ballot is finalized and printed, the final copy will be reviewed and validated by each respective Division and Organizational Affiliate Presidents and Region Chair.

D. The ACA election is conducted primarily by an electronic ballot distributed to eligible members in good standing as of November 1. Paper ballots will be provided upon request of the member.

E. All ballots for the current elections, postmarked on the last business day of January in the U.S. or received five business days following the last business day of January from members residing outside of the U.S. will be considered valid and included in the current year’s election results.

VI. METHOD OF TALLYING VOTES

A. The ACA President-Elect is elected by majority vote of eligible members, rather than a plurality. The method of tallying votes and instructions to members for voting follow the Hare Quota method of voting (sometimes referred to as Simple Quota) and are as follows:

1. Members may vote in either of 2 ways:
   (a) Rank order the candidates using only numbers (1, 2, 3, 4, 5…with “1” being the first choice.) Every candidate need not be ranked. OR
   (b) Vote for a single candidate by using a “1” or a mark.

2. Tallying votes: If one candidate receives the majority (50% + 1) first choice votes, s/he is declared the winner.

3. If there is no first-choice majority, the candidate with the smallest number of first-choice votes is eliminated. The second choices of the voters whose first choice was eliminated are then considered first choices and distributed among the candidates remaining. If there is now a majority (50% + 1) for one candidate, s/he is declared the winner.
4. This process is continued, eliminating at each stage the candidate with the least first choice votes and redistributing the next choice votes for eliminated candidates until a majority (50% + 1) for one candidate is obtained.

5. Note that under this system, the candidate who has the greatest number but not a majority (50% + 1) of votes on the first count may not necessarily become the winning candidate as the second, third, etc. selections are counted.

6. This process, carried to its conclusion, will also identify the second-place choice to replace the winning candidate should they withdraw or become ineligible to serve.

For Example:

Each voter lists their preference by rank ordering each of the candidates. In this system, you have to redistribute all the votes when a candidate is dropped in a given round. It also means that because that voter’s “first ranked choice” is no longer in the running, their second ranked choice is now their highest preferred candidate. If that candidate gets dropped, we then need to look at the voter’s third highest preferred candidate because that is now their “first choice” since the others have been dropped.

Here is an example. Let’s say there are four candidates and one hundred people who vote. Candidate A receives 30 votes, Candidate B gets 25 votes, Candidate C gets 25 votes, and Candidate D gets 20 votes. In a plurality, Candidate A would win because they received the most votes. However, this also means that they fell far below a majority of 50% + 1. In other words, only 30 of the 100 voters elected the winner.

The theory behind Single Transfer Vote and the Hare Method is that the process seeks to consider the preference of each voter by considering the rank order of their vote for each candidate. This is why the voter is asked to rank each candidate.

The process is based on awarding the win to the candidate with the majority, so when one candidate is dropped, all of the votes for that dropped candidate have to be redistributed. In the example above, Candidate D had the lowest number of votes in round one. All of Candidate D’s 20 votes need to be redistributed and is based on how those 20 voters ranked Candidates A, B, and C. In this example, the process continues until one candidate reaches the 51 vote threshold.

   B. The Graduate Student Representative is elected by a plurality of votes cast.

   C. Division and Region Governing Council Representative Elections: These elections, are determined by a plurality of votes cast.

   D. Division and Organizational Affiliate Officers: Entities participating in ACA’s election will determine a winner based on a plurality of votes, unless the Division’s or Organizational Affiliate’s election procedures require a majority. ACA will apply the same method of preferential voting as noted above unless the entity’s bylaws and or procedures require otherwise.

VII. REPORTING OF RESULTS

   A. The company conducting the election will forward all election results to ACA’s Chief Executive Officer no later than 15 days following the ballot cutoff date. The CEO will then provide the results to the Nominations and Elections Committee Chair.
B. The ACA President-Elect candidates and Student Governing Council Representative candidates will each be called by the Nominations and Elections Committee Chair as soon as the results of the final balloting are known to inform them of the results. The Chair will call the ACA President and President-Elect to inform them of the results.

C. The Nominations and Elections Committee Chair (or designee) will notify the designated representative of each Division, Region, and Organizational Affiliate, who will assume responsibility for notifying each person on the ballot for that entity of the election results, as soon as possible and preferably by telephone.

D. The Nominations and Elections Committee Chair (or designee) will send the election results to members of the Nominations and Elections Committee, all Division and Organizational Affiliate Presidents, Region Chairs, and candidates for ACA President-Elect and Region Representative to Governing Council. Election results will be posted on the ACA website for all entities following notification of said entity.

E. All results for ACA’s Division, Organizational Affiliate, and Region elections will be reported in the April or May issue of Counseling Today.

VIII. PETITION RECOUNT

A. A request for a recount must be submitted in writing by a candidate to the ACA Chief Executive Officer who will then notify the Nominations and Elections Committee Chair. The Chair will take action according to these rules.

B. The request must be received by the ACA Chief Executive Officer by 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time no later than fifteen (15) days after the election results are reported.

C. Petition recounts are permitted if the margin of difference between the winning candidate and the losing candidate(s) is less than (50) votes or two and one half percent (2.5%) of all votes cast for the office, whichever is less. If several candidates are contesting for a multi-member position, then all votes received by all candidates are totaled.

D. The expense of holding a recount that changes the election result in favor of the petitioner will be covered by ACA. In the event the recount does not change the election result, the expense will be covered by the nominating entity.

E. Petitioners may designate individuals to observe the recount. The cost of including observers in the recount process will be at the nominating entity’s expense.

F. Challenge of election results may be initiated on procedural grounds and the same written procedures prescribed above are applied in cases of such petition. In such instances, the Nominations and Elections Committee shall have final authority in determining the acceptability of the reported results.

G. In case of an approved petition recount, the results of the recount shall be the final result and no further count shall be undertaken.
IX. WITHDRAWAL PROCESS

A. Any candidate may withdraw from an election by submitting written notification to the ACA Nominations and Election Committee Chair, the ACA Chief Executive Officer, ACA Governance Administrator, and the withdrawing candidate’s Nominations and Election Chair.

B. A candidate’s withdrawal from the election will be considered effective upon receipt of the candidate’s written notice. The Nominations and Elections Committee Chair will acknowledge receipt of the notice in a timely fashion.

C. If notice of withdrawal is received prior to publication of the ballot and election materials, ACA staff will make every effort to ensure the candidate’s name and information is removed from consideration. When it is not possible to remove the name from the ballot, the membership of ACA will be notified on the ACA website.

D. If the winning candidate chooses to withdraw, the candidate with the second highest number of votes will be considered the winner of the election. Unless forbidden by a participating organization’s bylaws, replacement candidates may be permitted with the approval of ACA’s Nominations and Elections Committee Chair, the ACA Chief Executive Officer and the requesting organization’s Nomination and Elections Chair. Replacement candidates will be required to comply with the approved timeline and will not be permitted any extensions to those deadlines.

X. VIOLATIONS

A. Any candidate who believes the election regulations or rules have been violated to the detriment of his or her candidacy may submit a letter to the Nominations and Elections Committee Chair documenting the allegation(s). ACA, Division, Region or Organizational Affiliate members who have evidence of rule violations have the right to submit that evidence in writing, witnessed by at least four other members.

B. Any ACA President-Elect candidate who accepts contributions in support of a campaign or directly benefits from third party campaign activities may be considered in violation of campaign rules and may be subject to sanctions up to and including removal from candidacy.

C. The Nominations and Elections Committee shall investigate any allegations of rule violations committed by a candidate participating in the ACA election.

D. The candidate charged with rule violation will be given two weeks to respond to the allegations(s) and provide evidence in his or her defense. The entity that nominated the candidate will be duly informed of the allegations and will also be given two weeks to provide evidence in the candidate’s defense.

E. If the candidate in question is part of a Division or Organizational Affiliate’s managed election, the President or Chair of the candidate’s Division or Organizational Affiliate will be notified by the Nominations and Elections Committee Chair and will also be given two weeks to provide evidence in the candidate’s defense.

F. All correspondences, (1) the letter stating the allegations, signed by five members of ACA or submitted by a candidate, (2) the statement (if submitted) by the nominee or candidate relative to the alleged violation, and (3) the statement (if submitted) by the President or Chair of the nominating entity will then be forwarded to the Nominations and Elections Committee to determine (1) whether to sanction the nominee or candidate, and (2) whether to sanction the nominating Division, Organizational Affiliate, or Region.

G. Sanctioning means that the nominating Division, Organizational Affiliate, or Region will lose nominating privileges. Any sanction against a participating organization/entity will be for a period not to exceed one year. The sanction period will be July 1–June 30 of the year following the sanction.

H. Any individual found to be in violation of a nominations and elections rule before, during, or after the election process may be removed from the election process and may be declared ineligible for the elected office. If a winning candidate is declared ineligible the candidate receiving the next highest number of votes will be determined assume the elected position. For managed elections, if no remaining candidates are available to accept the elected position, it will be the responsibility of the participating organization affected to appoint an individual to the position deemed ineligible.
