March 23 and 26, 1975 Senate Meeting

WHEREAS, There is increasing attention in the personnel and guidance literature devoted to the role of paraprofessionals; and

WHEREAS, There is an apparent increase in the number of persons employed as paraprofessional; and

WHEREAS, There appears to be a need for professional recognition of the distinction among the roles of persons engaging in personnel and guidance activities at the paraprofessional level;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That APGA define personnel and guidance paraprofessionals as persons who assist professionals in the performance of a variety of task specifically of a personnel and guidance nature, and that they are distinguished from professionals in that full educational credentials are not required and professional supervision is generally provided. They must be distinguished from other personnel in that their training and activities require counseling knowledge and a substantial understanding of the tasks professional personnel and guidance workers perform; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That APGA promotes the education, utilization, and acceptance of paraprofessionals in all appropriate personnel and guidance settings.

March 23 and 26, 1975 Senate Meeting

WHEREAS, The Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) of 1973 makes numerous strong references to the need among the poor and disadvantage, veterans and other target groups for employment counseling and special placement services; and

WHEREAS, The American Personnel and Guidance Association has offered, in person and in writing on numerous occasions, to assist the Manpower Administration of the Department of Labor in recruiting and training qualified counselors to provide such services; and

WHEREAS, The Manpower Administration has offered only perfunctory and evasive responses to such proposals; and

WHEREAS; There is growing evidence that the Prime Sponsors under CETA are not meeting the requirements to recruit and train competent counseling and placement staffs; and

WHEREAS, the capability to provide such counseling services which existed in the federal-state employment service under MDTA are being systematically eroded away be the transfer of funds from the employment services to prime sponsors;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the American Personnel and Guidance Association urge the Congress to conduct oversight hearings on the manner in which the counseling provisions of CETA are being administered with a view toward strengthening those provisions and their monitoring, evaluation and enforcement by the Manpower Administration.

March 23 and 26, 1975 Senate Meeting

WHEREAS, The Budget of the President of the United States requests for the U.S. Employment Services for FY 1976 calls for a ten percent cut in funding levels approved by the Congress for FY 1975; and;

WHEREAS, This is the fourth year in a row in which such cuts have been requested; and

WHEREAS, Such cuts have resulted in a severe cutback in employment counseling staff of State Employment Services from a level of about 5,500 in 1972 to a level of 3,500 in 1975; and

WHEREAS, Such cuts seriously damage the capabilities of the employment service in meeting the counseling and placement needs of youth entering the job market, of Vietnam Era Veterans, of the handicapped and older workers, of women entering or re-entering the job market, of migrant and seasonal farm workers, and of the disadvantage among minorities, the poor, and public offenders; and

WHEREAS, The nation needs expanded employment counseling and special placement services in behalf of all these groups in a period of deepening recession;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the American Personnel and Guidance Association urges the Congress to restore the cuts proposed in the President's Budget and to provide adequate appropriations for the federal-state employment services at least to the levels appropriated by Congress in regular and supplemental appropriations in FY 1975.

March 23 and 26, 1975 Senate Meeting

WHEREAS, All counselors in every state should be certified; and

WHEREAS, Having different certification requirements in the different states tends to make it difficult for counselors to change jobs between states; and

WHEREAS, It would seem that the clients of all counselors in every state would seem to deserve qualified counselors; and

WHEREAS, A profession should set minimum standards for membership to qualify as a profession;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the American Personnel and Guidance Association produce a set of recommended minimum state certification requirements to be published; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That APGA actively support reciprocity of certification among all fifty states, U.S. Territories, and the District of Columbia.

April 8 and 11, 1974 Senate Meeting

WHEREAS, Not all information about career education and occupational training opportunities are equally reliable and not all recruiters, employers and other purveyors of career information are equally professional or ethical in their information dissemination activities; and

WHEREAS, Many students lack the maturity, experience, and judgment to evaluate critically career information received from diverse sources or to understand full the implications of action they may take on the basis of such information; and

WHEREAS, Counselors and professional organization such as APGA and its constituent divisions have traditionally assumed leadership roles in influencing the dissemination and evaluation of career information;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That counselors reaffirm their responsibility for assuring that their counselees receive fair and accurate information about the various options presented by the representatives of colleges; private, trade, technical and business schools; the armed forces; trade unions; employers and others vying for the opportunity to provide training, education or employment; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That counselors caution students to be on guard against exaggerated claims; advise them to secure in writing any promises or commitments that are made orally; and urge them to refrain from signing any contracts or other legal documents without prior consultation with a lawyer, counselor, or other individual who is qualified to explain in a unbiased manner the nature and extent of the commitments being entered into; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That all APGA and Divisional personnel involved in planning future Associational activities, including publications, convention programs, and exhibits strive to present a balanced picture of the career and training opportunities in all segments of the society and avoid any activity that appears to call undue attention to or to place special emphasis on any particular sector of the occupational structure, unless the nature of the special focus is clearly specified.

April 8 and 11, 1974 Senate Meeting

WHEREAS, The American Personnel and Guidance Association has made a commitment to the development of a public relations program; and

WHEREAS, the profession of guidance and counseling is committed to providing services for both youth and adults; and

WHEREAS, There still exists a communication gap between the guidance and counseling profession and the public at large, in regard to the role of the counselor; and

WHEREAS, There are still thousands of youth and adults across the nation who are without the services of a counselor; and

WHEREAS, The realization of truly diminishing and communication gap and further developing the guidance and counseling profession requires a concerted national level effort, including a sufficient basis of support;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the American Personnel and Guidance Association recognized the need to further extend public relations in this area; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That this association believes that the necessary energies and resources should be committed to develop a meaningful public relations program; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Association favors the adoption of an endeavor which would include, for example, short films, (I.e., 30 second and one minute), portraying how counseling services can be used; encouraging the understanding of the need for guidance and counseling services at all levels; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That these films, and other media, should be made available to news and other media for use as public service announcements sponsored by the American Personnel and Guidance Association.

April 8 and 11, 1974 Senate Meeting

WHEREAS, Counseling is a dynamic profession with accelerated rates of new information; and

WHEREAS, Counselors in the field are not always able to perform and maintain current knowledge in research, it becomes necessary to rely on consultants and others to perform these functions; and

WHEREAS, It has been the practice of the Manpower Administration to maintain regional counseling consultants to provide expertise in counseling operations at the state and local office level, and now these consultants have been discontinued; and

WHEREAS, It is believed that this expertise is urgently needed to maintain the necessary level of quality counseling services;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Manpower Administration be requested to reinstate, and effectively use, this important consultant system, and steps be taken to eliminate further erosion of the status of resource personnel for counseling programs.

March 26 and 29, 1972 Senate Meeting

WHEREAS, The United States of America has subscribed to the principle of quality education and agrees to the belief that the denial of the right to quality education is the denial of an unalienable human right; and

WHEREAS, Education is for the full development of the human organism; and

WHEREAS, APGA as a leader among organizations in the helping professions, has subscribed to the principles in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights as they apply to all people;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That APGA support the idea that every person shall have the right to equal educational opportunity in the nation's public schools; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That this right shall not be abridged on the basis of race, sex, or any condition which would deprive the individual of his civil or human rights; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That APGA supports programs which eliminate economic discrimination and encourage equitable distribution of the financial resources available to the educational authorities; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the APGA Human Rights Commission work with the appropriate Congressional committees; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That individual members of APGA be encouraged to support this resolution through their local and national political leaders.

March 26 and 29, 1972 Senate Meeting

WHEREAS, Little effort is presently being made at the national level to encourage members of various non-white and/or disadvantage groups to enter and practice in the field of Guidance and Counseling; and

WHEREAS, Political and economic conditions are prohibiting factors for non-white and/or disadvantage persons who are desirous of entering the counseling profession;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That APGA actively encourage every counselor training institution to establish scholarships and/or fellowships for non-white and/or disadvantage students; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That APGA offer on a matching basis up to $500 each to the first two State Branches that submit acceptable proposals establishing such funds.

March 26 and 29, 1972 Senate Meeting

WHEREAS, The Federal Government has developed agencies for dealing with the aged; and

WHEREAS, The population and problems of the aged are becoming larger and more complex;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That APGA develop a committee to develop guidelines for planning a curriculum to train counselors in working with the aged and the children of the aged; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the APGA contact counselor education institutions and ACES and encourage them to assist in this endeavor; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Federal Government be made aware of the need in this area and the funds requested to fulfill its intent; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That Branches be involved and the results of this resolution be reported at the 1973 Convention.

March 26 and 29, 1972 Senate Meeting

WHEREAS, Upgrading of professional skills should be an on-going process; and

WHEREAS, Many states are in the process of improving and expanding requirements for counselor certification; and

WHEREAS, Many persons who are currently practicing as counselors or supervisors of counselors would not qualify for certification under new certification standards;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That APGA supports the concept of professionally appropriate alternate routes for experienced professional to qualify for new certification so that returning to school does not become the only possible method; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That APGA encourage State Branches and Divisions to work with State Department of Education in the development of professional certification standards and in the development of the criteria for implementation; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the President of APGA be called upon to appoint a special task force to prepare a position paper advancing the concept of competency evaluation for certification and budget $1,500.00 for that purpose.

March 26 and 29, 1972 Senate Meeting

WHEREAS, The Strong Vocational Interest Blanks (SVIB) provide different occupational scores for men and women: that is, women cannot be scored on the occupations like Certified Public Accountant, purchasing agent, public administrators, and men cannot be scored on occupations such as medical technologist, recreation leader, physical education teachers; and

WHEREAS, The SVIB manual states: "Many young women do not appear to have strong occupational interests, and they may score high only in certain 'Pre-marital' occupations; elementary school teacher, office worker, stenographer-secretary. Such a finding is disappointing to many college women, since they are likely to consider themselves career-oriented. In such cases, the selection of an area of training or an occupation should probably be based upon practical considerations, fields providing backgrounds that might be helpful to a wife and mother, occupations that can be pursued part time, are easily resumed after periods of non-employment, and are readily available in different locales." (Campbell, revised, p 13, 1966);

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That APGA commission duly authorize members to petition and negotiate with the SVIB publishers to revise their instruments, manuals and norm groups so as to eliminate discrimination; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That this duly authorized commission develop with the test publishers and explanatory paper to circulate among all purchasers of SVIB materials including answer sheets a statement which outlines the possible limitations inherent in the current SVIB with suggestions for ways to minimize the harm; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the commission in cooperation with the test publisher set a deadline for the new forms to be published and distributed.

March 26 and 29, 1972 Senate Meeting

WHEREAS, There is clear and undeniable evidence that girls and women suffer from personal and institutional discrimination, that they are, by sociological definition, an oppressed minority; that they are denied equality in educational opportunities, occupations, advancement, salary, prestige, and representation in decision and policy making areas; and

WHEREAS, Concern for the welfare of all human beings is an integral part of counseling and guidance; and

WHEREAS, The American Personnel and Guidance Association is the major professional organization in counseling and guidance; and

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That APGA support all efforts to seek, as a minimum, full and uniform compliance with Executive Order 11246 as amended by Order 11375, which prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex by any agency holding Federal contracts; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That APGA establish and fund as a regular part of the budget, a permanent Commission on Women, composed of a majority of women, including at least one representative of the Women's Caucus of APGA and one from the Women's Commission of and APGA division which has established such a commission, i.e., ACES and NVGA (Commission on the Occupational Status of Women); and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Initial year be budgeted up to $2,500.00; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Commission be charged with (a) investigating and reporting the status of women in the American Personnel and Guidance Association; (b) formulating recommendations for further action based on findings; and (c) contributing to the leadership and development of affirmative action programs within the American Personnel and Guidance Association and its Divisions and State Branches.

March 26 and 29, 1972 Senate Meeting

WHEREAS, A school budget as proposed by the administration reflects the priorities of that administration and as adopted implements the policies of the Board of Education; and

WHEREAS, A disproportionate share of the austerity program of the 1972 budget is borne by the guidance program with these cut-backs representing direct services to all the children; and

WHEREAS, In the 1972 budget simultaneously with these curtailments of services to all the children provision was made for the expansion of remedial services of psychologist and social workers; and

WHEREAS, Thus the Board of Education appears to be reversing its former policy of encouraging prevention services as a base for all children; and

WHEREAS, In addition the 1972 budget negates the pioneer work of the Chicago public school system in career development which clearly carried out some of the goals of the career education policies of the Commissioner of Education; and

WHEREAS, Additional monies would have been available to the Chicago public schools through the implementation of Chicago's career development program if the adjustment teachers had not been reduced in number and if the guidance consultant staff had been retained at its December strength; and

WHEREAS, The budgetary action by the Board of Education repudiates its position as given in the Statement of Goals:

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate of the American Personnel and Guidance Association, acting for the 27,487 members of the Association, 10,000 of whom are presently in attendance in Chicago at the twentieth annual convention, convey to the Board of Education, City of Chicago, and to the General Superintendent of Schools, James F. Redmond, the deep concern of the developmental needs related to career development and the decision-making process, and call upon the Board of Education to reaffirm its policy of providing guidance services on an every-pupil basis by restoring the school and consultant guidance personnel in the supplemental budget and reaffirming its policy of providing special help to the disadvantage by restoring the programs of counseling and placement in areas of high mobility, the Higher Education Guidance Center for minority children, and the census and counseling program for drop-outs, and urge the Board of Education to encourage the continuing efforts of the staff that created Chicago's outstanding guidance materials, collateral programs and systems of in-service training.

March 26 and 29, 1972 Senate Meeting

WHEREAS, The Senate has received copies of the report from the Regional Office Organization to Serve (ROOTS);

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the APGA Senate endorse the ROOTS concept as proposed and recommend to the Board of Directors that it be implemented as a priority item.

March 26 and 29, 1972 Senate Meeting

WHEREAS, The Board of Directors commended the headquarters staff on the proposal for field seminar to initiate the plan on a pilot basis in 1971; and

WHEREAS, The Board recommend that a reimbursable loan of $10,000.00 be set aside; and

WHEREAS, The staff did in fact assist in the planning and implantation of two field seminars during the year; and
